59 60	7.	Discussing: Internationalization (15 min) (attachment: -)
61 62		The FSR discusses the subject of internationalization
63 64 65		Heijnis and Senchi had a meeting about this subject on Monday. The faculty is trying to come up with standards and ways to respond to the law that might be passed. For example, when a course can be identified as Dutch and how many courses should be in Dutch. The board has asked us to add points or
66 67 68		comments to the current setup of the upcoming work group. Heijnis proposes to read the document together. Van Kasteel mentions that the "expectation that the exam commission accepts requests to do exams in Dutch" is too vague and should be accepted automatically. Especially if it's expected that all
69		requests are accepted. Kracht says that if it's not formalized it's all dependent on this contingent. He says that the communication on this point should be properly done if it happens. Kracht says we should ask if they considered making it a standard option. Heijnis explains that the context of this point is also about a specialization in a major track. Tip says that in general, he is a fan of offering tests in English or Dutch,

Tip says that making Dutch mandatory to learn for teachers might make it even less attractive to work at a Dutch university. Benjamins responds that to try to not have the law happen this is one of the measures all the universities will take. Benjamins says he is missing the goal of improving Dutch language skills for students. Heijnis responds that this is present in the other document. Van Eck says that including electives it will be hard to reach 70%. Heijnis responds that 70% is only about the mandatory courses. Van Eck also wonders how it will be possible to offer so many electives in English when there won't be that many bachelor programs in English. There are no further comments.

Verhave remarks that the time for the staff to learn Dutch is very short on top of their normal workload. Especially when it comes to grading exams or assignments in Dutch. Tip remarks that it's weird to have the decision be made by the exam commission when it should be dependent on the content of the course, so then the exam should already be prepared in Dutch if the option to do it in Dutch is available.

The FSR reads the second document "Vervolg internationalisering FGw". Heijnis explains that this was the mission of one of the working groups. Van Kasteel remarks that there is too much focus on the extracurricular. Heijnis explains that Carlos Reijnen is open to including it in the mandatory part of a program but a lot of OPD's are against it because it takes away the space to teach the actual program in the program. Van Kasteel agrees with the worries of the OPD's but doing in the mandatory program for bachelors makes more sense. It could be an option that the humanities-wide introductory courses can be pushed to the second year and a Dutch mandatory course can be included in the first year. Furthermore, in some programs, a mandatory Dutch course can be taken up in the big elective space of some studies. Tip says he is technically a fan of including the Dutch courses, but taking students to an A2 level is not very useful. Van Kasteel responds that he agrees but then higher-level Dutch language courses can be offered in the extracurricular space.

8. Deciding: Honours program (15 min) (attachment: -)

The FSR discusses the subject of the honours programme.

The current courses offered by the honours program are locked away by honours admission. Heijnis asks if the council agrees to opening up the courses to everyone if they are not full or even scrapping the program fully. Van Kasteel explains that he did the honours program in Utrecht, and he was approached to do the program mainly because of his GPA. He also enjoyed to program because the students participating are very active. Van Kasteel agrees to open the courses, but the honours program label can only be given to students who participate in the full program. The council agrees to open the courses opening it up. Van Kasteel would suggest that the board look at the program at Utrecht because people are very positive about it. At the Utrecht program, there is an admission by interview, and it is more of a club with activities in which honours students have to participate in. Heijnis will email Carlos Reijnen regarding the honours program. [ACTIONPOINT]

9. Discussing: Promotion candidacy and election (15 min) (attachment: -)

116 The FSR discusses promotion for the FSR election.

The council discusses options to promote the FSR. The council should ask the board to put it in the newsletter, to put it on the screens at the locations [ACTIONPOINTS]. There should be social media posts about what the FSR does, and the election dates – possibly include a QR code with all the information. Furthermore, to ask ALPHA to discuss it with the OC's and to email all the OC's to put it in their newsletters [ACTIONPOINT]. Kracht and Berg will work on a poster and information to share before next week [ACTIONPOINT]. Heijnis will email Maria Hagen and ALHPA then about the promotion.
